And be it further enacted, That it shall and may be lawful for the Postmaster-General to enter into contracts, for a term not exceeding eight years, for extending the line of posts, and to authorize the person or persons, so contracting, to receive, during the continuance of such contract, according to the rates by this act established, all the postage which shall arise on letters, newspapers and packets, conveyed by any such post; and the roads, therein designated, shall, during the continuance of such contract, be deemed and considered as post-roads, within the terms and provisions of this act; Provided, That no such contract shall be made, or the diminution of the revenue of the general post-office, and that a duplicate of every such contract, under hand and seal, shall, within sixty days, after the execution thereof, be lodged in the office of the Comptroller of the Treasury of the United States.

And be it further enacted, That there shall be established, at the seat of the government of the United States, a general post-office. And there shall be one Postmaster-General, who shall have authority to appoint an assistant, and deputy postmasters, at all places where such shall be found necessary. And he shall provide for carrying the mail of the United States, by stage-carriages or horses, as he may judge most expedient; and as often as he, having regard to the productiveness thereof, as well as other circumstances shall think proper, and defray the expense thereof, with all other expenses arising on the collection and management of the revenue of the post-office. He shall also have power to prescribe such regulations to the deputy postmasters, and others employed under him, as may be found necessary, and to superintend the business department, in all the duties which may be assigned to it, and also to direct the route or road, where there are more than one, between the places above established, which route or road shall be considered as the post-road.

And be it further enacted, That the Postmaster-General shall, once in three months, obtain from his deputies, the accounts and vouchers of their receipts and expenditures, and the balances due thereon, and render to the Secretary of the Treasury, a quarterly account of all the receipts and expenditures in the said department, to be audited and fitted, as other public accounts, and shall pay, quarterly, into the treasury of the United States, the balance in his hands. And the Postmaster-General, and his assistants, the deputy postmasters, and such as they may employ in their offices, shall, respectively, before they enter upon the duties, or be entitled to receive the emoluments of their offices, and the contractors for carrying the mail, and their agents or servants, to whom the mail shall be entrusted, before they commence the execution of said trust, shall, respectively, take and subscribe before some justice of the peace, the following oath or affirmation, and cause a certificate thereof to be filed in the office of the Postmaster-General; "I do swear (or affirm as the case may be) that I will faithfully perform all the duties required of me, and abstain from every thing forbidden by the law in relation to the establishment of post-offices and post-roads within the United States."

And be it further enacted, That if any person shall obstruct or retard the passage of the mail, or of any horse or carriage carrying the same, he shall, upon conviction for every such offence, pay a fine not exceeding one hundred dollars. And if any ferryman shall, by wilful negligence, or refusal to transport the mail across any ferry, delay the time he shall forfeit, and pay, for each half hour that the time shall be so delayed, a sum not exceeding ten dollars.

And be it further enacted, That it shall be the duty of the Postmaster-General, to give public notice in one or more of the newspapers published at the seat of government of the United States, and in one or more of the newspapers published in the State or States where the contract is to be performed, for, at least, six weeks before the entering into any contract for the conveyance of the mail that such contract is intended to be made, and the day on which it shall be concluded; defining the places, from and to which such mail is to be conveyed; the time at which it is to be made up; the day and hour, at which it is to be delivered; and the penalty or penalties for non-performance of the stipulations. He shall, moreover, within thirty days after the making of any contract, lodge the same, together with the proposals which he shall have received respecting the same, in the office of the Comptroller of the Treasury of the United States.

And be it further enacted, That every deputy postmaster shall keep an office in which one or more persons shall attend at such hours as the Postmaster-General shall direct, for the purpose of performing the duties thereof. And all letters brought to any post-office, half an hour before the time of making up the mail at such office, shall be forwarded therein.

And be it further enacted, That from and after the first day of June next, the deputy postmaster and persons authorized by the Postmaster-General, shall demand and receive, for the postage and conveyance of letters and packets, except such as are hereinafter excepted, according to the several rates and sums following: For the postage of every single letter, to or from any place by land not exceeding thirty miles, six cents; over thirty miles, and not exceeding sixty, eight cents; over sixty miles, and not exceeding one hundred, ten cents; over one hundred miles, and not exceeding one hundred and fifty, twelve cents and a half; over one hundred and fifty miles, and not exceeding two hundred, fifteen cents; over two hundred miles, and not exceeding three hundred and fifty, twenty cents; over three hundred and fifty miles, and not exceeding four hundred and fifty, twenty-two cents; and to or from any place by land, more than four hundred and fifty miles, twenty-five cents; and every double letter shall pay double the said rates; every triple letter, triple; every packet weighing one ounce avoirdupois, to pay, at the rate of four single letters for each ounce, and in that proportion, for any greater weight.

And be it further enacted, That all letters and packets, passing by sea to and from the United States, or from one port to another therein, in packet boats or vessels, the property of, or provided by the United States, shall be rated and charged, as follows: For every single letter, eight cents; for every double letter, sixteen cents; for every triple letter or packet, twenty-four cents; for every letter or packet brought into the United States, or carried from one port therein to another by sea, in any private ship or vessel, four cents; if delivered at the place where the same shall arrive; and if directed to be delivered at any other place, with the addition of the like postage, as other letters are made subject to the payment of by this act.

And be it further enacted, That if any deputy postmaster, or other person authorized by the Postmaster-General, to receive the postages of letters, shall fraudulently demand or receive any rate of postage, or any gratuity or reward, other than is provided by this act for the postage of letters or packets, on conviction thereof, he shall forfeit for every such offence, one hundred dollars, and shall be rendered incapable of holding any office under the United States.

And be it further enacted, That no ship or vessel, arriving at any port within the United States, where a post-office is established, shall be permitted to report, make entry or break bulk, till the master or commander shall have delivered to the postmaster, all letters directed to any person or persons within the United States, which, under his care or within his power, shall be brought in such ship or vessel, other than such as are directed to the owner or consignee; but when a vessel shall be bound to another port, than that, at which she may enter, the letters belonging to, or to be delivered at the said port of delivery, shall not be delivered to the postmaster at the port of entry. And it shall be the duty of the collector or other officer of the port, empowered to receive entries of ships or vessels, to require from every master or commander of such ship or vessel, an oath or affirmation, purporting that he has delivered all such letters, except as aforesaid.

And be it further enacted, That the postmasters to whom such letters may be delivered, shall pay to the master, commander, or other person delivering the same, except the commanders of foreign packets, two cents for every such letter or packet; and shall obtain from the person delivering the same, a certificate specifying the number of letters and packets, with the name of the ship or vessel, and the place from whence the last sailed; which certificate, together with a receipt for the money, shall be with his half year's accounts, transmitted to the Postmaster-General, who shall credit the amount thereof to the postmaster forwarding the same.

And be it further enacted, That if any person, other than the Postmaster-General, or his deputies, or persons by them employed, shall take up, receive, order, dispatch, convey, carry or deliver any letter or letters, packet or packets, other than newspapers, for hire or reward, or shall be concerned in setting up any foot or horse post, wagon or other carriage, by or in which any letter or packet shall be carried for hire, on any established post road, or any packet, or other vessel or boat, or any conveyance whatever, whereby the revenue of the general post office may be injured, every person, so offending, shall forfeit, for every such offence, the sum of two hundred dollars. Provided, That it shall and may be lawful for every person to send letters or packets by special messenger.

And be it further enacted, That the deputy postmasters or agents of the Postmaster-General, shall duly account and answer to him, for all bye or way letters, and shall specify the number and rates in the post bill. And if any deputy postmaster or agent shall neglect so to account, he or they so offending, shall, on conviction thereof, forfeit, for every such offence, a sum not exceeding one hundred dollars.

And be it further enacted, That if any person, employed in any of the departments of the general post office, shall unlawfully detain, delay, or open, any letter, packet, bag or mail of letters, with which he shall be entrusted, or which shall have come to his possession, and which are intended to be conveyed by post: Or if any such person shall secretly, embezzle or destroy any letter or packet, entrusted to him, as aforesaid, and which he does not contain any security for, or assurance relating to money, as herein after defined, every such offender being thereof duly convicted, shall, for every such offence, be fined not exceeding three hundred dollars, or imprisoned not exceeding six months, or both, according to the circumstances and aggravations of his offence. And if any person, employed as aforesaid, shall secretly, embezzle or destroy, any letter, packet, bag, or mail of letters, with which he shall be entrusted, or which shall have come to his possession, and are intended to be conveyed by post, containing any bank note, or bank post-bill, bill of exchange, warrant of the treasury of the United States, note of assignment of stock in the funds, letters of attorney for receiving annuities of dividends, or for selling stock in the funds, or for receiving the interest thereof, or any letter of credit, or note for, or relating to the payment of money, or other bond or warrant, draft, bill, or promissory note whatsoever, for the payment of money; or if any such person, employed as aforesaid, shall steal or take any of the same out of any letter, packet, bag or mail of letters, that shall come to his possession, he shall, on conviction for any such offence, suffer death. And if any person, who shall have taken charge of the mail of the United States, shall quit or desert the same, before his arrival at the next post office, every such person, so offending, shall forfeit and pay a sum, not exceeding five hundred dollars, for every such offence. And if any person, concerned in carrying the mail of the United States, shall collect, receive or carry any letter or packet, or shall cause or procure the same to be done, contrary to this act, every such offender shall forfeit and pay, for every such offence, a sum not exceeding fifty dollars.

And be it further enacted, That if any person or persons shall rob any carrier of the mail of the United States, of such mail, or if any person shall rob the mail, in which letters are sent to be conveyed by post, of any letter or packet, or shall steal such mail, or shall steal and take from or out of the same, or from or out of any post office, any letter or packet, such offender or offenders shall, on conviction thereof, suffer death.

And be it further enacted, That the deputy postmasters shall, respectively, publish at the expiration of every three months, in one of the newspapers published at, or nearest the place of his residence, for three successive weeks, a list of all the letters then remaining in their respective offices; and at the expiration of the next three months, shall send such of the said letters as then remain on hand, as dead letters, to the general post-office, where the same shall be opened and inspected; and if any valuable papers or matter of consequence, shall be found therein, it shall be the duty of the Postmaster-General, to cause a descriptive list thereof to be inserted in one of the newspapers, published at the place most convenient to where the owner may be supposed to reside, if within the United States, and such letter and the contents shall be preserved, to be delivered to the person, to whom the same shall be addressed, upon payment of the postage, and the expense of publication.

And be it further enacted, That the following letters and packets, and no other shall be received and conveyed by post, free of postage, under such restrictions, as are herein after provided; that is to say: All letters and packets to or from the President or Vice-President of the United States, and all letters and packets, not exceeding two ounces in weight, to or from any member of the Senate or House of Representatives, the Secretary of the Senate or Clerk of the House of Representatives, during their actual attendance in any session of Congress, and twenty days after such session. All letters to and from the Secretary of the Treasury, and his assistant, Comptroller, Register, and Auditor of the Treasury, the Treasurer, the Secreary of State, the Secretary at War, the Commissioners for settling the accounts between the United States and individual States, the Postmaster-General and his assistant. Provided, That no person shall frank or enclose any letter or packet other than his own; but any public letter or packet from the department of the Treasury may be franked by the Secretary of the Treasury, or the assistant Secretary, or by the Comptroller, Register, Auditor or Treasurer; and that each person before named shall deliver to the post-office every letter or packet enclosed to him, which may be directed to any other person, noting the place, from whence it came by post, and the usual postage shall be charged thereon.

And be it further enacted, That if any person shall counterfeit the hand writing of any other person, in order to evade the payment of postage; such person or persons, so offending, and being thereof duly convicted, shall forfeit and pay, for every such offence, the sum of one hundred dollars.

And be it further enacted, That every Printer of newspapers may send one paper to each and every other printer of newspapers within the United States, free of postage, under such regulations, as the Postmaster-General shall provide.

And be it further enacted, That all newspapers, conveyed in the mail, shall be under a cover open at one end, carried in separate bags from the letters, and charged with the payment of one cent, for any distance not more than one hundred miles, and one cent and a half for any greater distance; And it shall be the duty of the Postmaster-General and his deputy, to keep a separate account for the newspapers, and the deputy postmasters shall receive fifty per cent on the postage of all newspapers; And if any other matter or thing be enclosed in such papers, the whole packet shall be charged, agreeably to the rates established by this act, for letters or packets. And if any of the persons employed in any department of the post office, shall unlawfully detain, delay, embezzle or destroy any newspaper, with which he shall be entrusted, such offenders, for every such offence, shall forfeit a sum not exceeding fifty dollars: Provided, That the Postmaster-General, in any contract, he may enter into, for the conveyance of the mail, may authorize the person, with whom such contract is made, to carry newspapers, other than those conveyed in the mail.

And be it further enacted That the Postmaster-General, he, and he is hereby authorized to allow to the deputy postmasters respectively, such commission on the monies arising from the postage of letters and packets, as he shall think adequate to their respective services: Provided, that the said commission shall not exceed forty per cent to any deputy, whose compensation thereby shall not exceed fifty dollars, nor thirty per cent to any deputy, whose compensation thereby shall not exceed one hundred dollars, nor twenty per cent to any other deputy, except the postmaster at the port, where the European packets do, or shall regularly arrive; to whom such farther allowance, in addition to the emoluments of his office, shall be made, as the Postmaster-General shall deem a reasonable compensation for his extra-services in the receipt and dispatch of letters, originally received into his office, from on board such packets, and by him forwarded to other offices: And provided, That the compensations aforesaid shall not exceed eighteen hundred dollars per annum to any one postmaster for all services by him rendered.

And be it further enacted, That if any deputy postmaster or other person, authorized to receive the postage of letters and packets, shall neglect or refuse to render his accounts, and pay over to the Postmaster-General, the balance by him due, at the end of every three months, it shall be the duty of the Postmaster-General, to cause a suit to be commenced against the person or persons so neglecting or refusing: And if the Postmaster-General shall not cause such suit to be commenced within three months, from the end of every such three months, the balances due from every such delinquent shall be charged to, and recoverable from the Postmaster-General.

And be it further enacted, That all pecuniary penalties and forfeitures, incurred under this act, shall be, one half for the use of the person or persons informing and prosecuting for the same, the other half to the use of the United States.

And be it further enacted, That it shall be lawful for the Postmaster-General, to make provision where it may be necessary, for the receipt of a letters and packets intended to be conveyed by a ship or vessel, beyond sea, or from any port of the United States to another port therein; and the letters so received shall be formed into a mail, to be up, and directed to the postmaster of the place to which such ship or vessel shall be bound. A every letter or packet so received, there shall be paid, at the time of its reception, a postage of one cent. And the Postmaster-General may make arrangements with the postmasters in any foreign country for the reciprocal receipt and delivery of letters and packets, through the post-offices.

And be it further enacted, That the deputy postmasters, and the persons employed in the transportation of the mail, shall be exempt from militia duties, or any fine or penalty for neglect thereof.

And be it further enacted, That all the surplus-revenue of the general post-office, which shall have accrued, previous to the first day of June next, not heretofore appropriated, be, and the same is hereby appropriated towards defraying any deficiency which may arise in the revenue of the said department for the year next ensuing.

And be it further enacted, That the act passed the last session of Congress, intitled, "An act to continue in force, for a limited time, an act intitled, "An act for the temporary establishment of the post-office," be, and the same is hereby continued in full force, until the first day of June next, and no longer.

And be it further enacted, That this act shall be in force for the term of two years, from the said first day of June next, and no longer.

JONATHAN TRUMBULL, Speaker of the House of Representatives.
JOHN ADAMS, Vice President of the United States, and President of the Senate.
Approved, February the twentieth, 1799.

GO. WASHINGTON, President of the United States.

Deposited among the Rolls in the office of the Secretary of State.

TH. JEFFERSON, Secretary of State.

FOR SALE,
Pursuant to the will of the late WARNER LEWIS, Esquire,
That fine tract of LAND lying upon James river in the county of Powhatan, known by the name of Maiden's Adventure.—It contains by an old patent, near 1300 acres (though it is supposed that it will hold out considerably more) of which about 500 acres are good grounds of the first quality. The land may be divided into two equal parts to suit purchasers, and extensive credit will be given if required. ADDISON LEWIS, Esq. to whom one half of the premises belong, will join in the sale: the title is indisputable, and the terms may be known by applying to PHILIP L. GRAYMES,
WILLIAM NELSON,
BURWELL STARKE,
MATHEW ANDERSON,

of 3000 ACRES near Edward Patterson's, in Buckingham county. 268 ACRES joining Major John Bates and Samuel Winfree. It is presumed that any person inclinable to purchase will view the premises, therefore a particular description is not necessary. I have likewise locations on 2000 acres more in sundry parts of the county of Buckingham, which I would likewise sell. Negroes, Wheat, Tobacco, Cash, or Public Securities, will be taken in payment. Long credit will be given. For terms apply to stant, if fair, if not, the next fair day.

The Clearing Pamunkey ri- ver from Hanover-Town to Fall-Mill in the county of Caroline. Part of the money will be paid the undertaker on the day of letting, and the balance when the work is received. Bond and security will be required for the performance of the contract, by The TRUSTEES.
March 3, 1793.

For Glasgow,
THE SHIP
ELIZABETH,
ARCH. M'NILL, Master,
NOW lying at Bull-Hill near City Point, a new British built ship, but then about 450 hogheads of tobacco, has two-thirds of her cargo engaged, and will sail in all this month; The ELIZABETH has excellent accommodations for passengers. For freight or passage apply to Mr.
William Mitchell, Richmond; Mr. Gilbert Robertson, Norfolk; Mr. David Buchanan, or Hector M'Nail, Petersburg; or the Master on board.
MARCH 10, 1793.

Twenty Shillings Reward.
STRAYED or stolen from the estate of Robert Carter Page, dec. near Hanover town, some time ago, a bay MARE, about 4 feet 8 inches high, about 3 years old, has a small star in her forehead, some saddle spots, trots and gallops, she has a long tail and has been used to work in the plough, branded on the near buttock, I B. I will give the above reward to any person that will deliver the said mare either to Messrs.
Henry and Samuel Toler in Richmond, or to the subscriber in Hanover county.
BENJAMIN TOLER.
March 6, 1793.

For LONDON,
THE BRIGANTINE
REBECCA,
ANTONIO WALLACE, Master,

A fast sailing vessel and well found, now loading at West-Point, on York river, to the address of Mr. Thomas Blane.—The Rebecca will sail early in April, two-thirds of the cargo being engaged, and will take in one hundred hogheads on liberty, if application is made immediately to WILLIAM B. CHRISTIAN at Hanover-Town, the MASTER on board, or to
ALEX. MACAULAY.
York, Feb. 28, 1793.

For LONDON,
THE
LOUISA,
GEO. GOOSELEY, Master,

Now loading at Cumberland on York river, to the address of Mr. Thomas Blane.
—The Louisa is a fine new ship of 300 tons, sheathed on the rocks and well found; will take in tobacco on liberty of consignment, has good accommodation for passengers, and it is expected will sail early in May. For freight or passage, apply to William B. Christian, at Hanover-Town, Robert Armistead, at Norfolk, the Master on board, or to
ALEX. MACAULAY.

Imported in the Rebecca, from London,
A few double keyed HARPSI- CHORDS, and Grand PIANO FORTES, —They will be sold low for ready money, being a consignment from the maker.
A. M.
York, March 6, 1793.

The beautiful thorough bred Horse
WILDAIR,
[Formerly the property of John Syme, Esq. of Hanover county.]
STANDS the ensuing sea- son at my house in Dinwiddie county, and will be let to mares at THREE GUINEAS each the season, to be paid at the expiration thereof, THIRTY SHIL-LINGS the single leap, or SIX GUINEAS to insure a mare's being with foal; but the money for the season may be discharged with the payment of TEN DOLLARS, when the mares are brought; and in like manner, where a person, on whom I can rely, will be responsible for six mares or upwards, payable at the expiration of the season, which ends on the first day of August.

Those persons who are so unfortunate as to miss having foals, who sent by the season last spring, shall have a leap this spring gratis, provided the leap should not prove sufficient, they will then continue their mare by the season on the above terms.
Not expecting as many mares to be left with me as were last spring, much knowledge I had then an insufficiency of pastureage which inconvenience I have sufficiently remedied by making a very large enclosure this winter for the sole purpose of mares sent to the horse next spring, which contains a great quantity of the best grass land.
WILDAIR being so remarkable for his certainty in getting foals, as also for their fine form, size and extra performances on the turf; that it is needless to expatiate on his remarkable good properties for breeding from.

WILLIAM STARK, jun.
N. B. I will not be liable for accidents.
February 22, 1793.

FITZ-PARTNER,
Bred by Everard Meade, Esq. of Amelia county,

A fine bay, sixteen hands and an inch high, of great activity, and highly formed, rising eight years, got by the noted horse Old Partner, out of the dam of Celar, stands at David Clarkson's in Albemarle county, in order to cover Mares, at Eight Dollars the season, Four Dollars the leap, and Fifteen Pence to the groom; the leap and groom money to be paid down, and a note to be sent with the Mares payable the first day of November next, which may be discharged by the payment of Seven Dollars by the first of August, at which time the season will expire. Great care will be taken to prevent accidents, but will not be responsible for any that may happen.

RUN-AWAY
from the subscribers, on the road to the lead mines from the house of Col. Woldridge, on the morning of the 5th inst. two men slaves, one named SANCHO, a light coloured mulatto, formerly belonging to Col. Robert Gamble of this city, about 5 feet 7 inches high, a likely slim made fellow, had on when he runaway, a light drab coloured coat, leather breeches, striped waistcoat, and mix'd coloured stockings, new shoes, one tied with a leather thong, the other with an old black ribbon.—The other a black man, very short, being about 5 feet high, named ISRAEL, well built and very active, had on a blue coat, grey coating overalls, lately owned by John Marshall Esq. of this city. Whoever will apprehend said slaves and secure them in any jail in this state, (and give information thereof) shall be entitled to EIGHT DOLLARS reward for each, or if delivered to the subscribers, shall be entitled to TEN DOLLARS for each, and reasonable charges.

his customers in particular, that he has just receiv- ed from Philadelphia, a large quantity of
LEATHER,
Which, in addition to his stock on hand, makes a complete assortment of the best quality, viz: Soal, skirting, harness, bridle, and upper leather; bag, chair-bottom and bellows hides; calf, goat, and kid skins; white calf, sheep, and lamb skins; calf skin, kip and cordevan boot-legs, and half ditto; vamps, counter toals; and Moroc- co bindings; for sale, at his Leather-Sore, a few doors below the market, for ready Money or Wheat.
—Also, gun-powder by the quarter cask, cow-hide whips by the dozen, and a neat double Chair and Harness.
Richmond, January 7, 1793.

NOTICE!
ORDERED, That the members of the Dismal Swamp Canal Company, pay to George Kelley, Esq. Treasurer, THIRTY DOLLARS on each share they respectively hold, on or before the first day of June next.
By order of the President and Directors.
WM. A. BAYLEY, Clerk.
Norfolk, Jan. 19, 1793.

TAKEN up in Chesterfield coun- ty, a bay HORSE, about 13 years old; 4 feet to inches high, with a star in his forehead, a hanging mane and short tail, a few saddle spots, no brand perceivable. Appraised to ten pounds, by ELEAZAR CLAY.

TAKEN up by the subscriber, in Goochland county, near Johnson's Spring, a black MARE, about 4 feet 11 inches high, one hind foot white, a small star in her forehead, no brand perceivable, well made, has had a hurt on her withers, has a bell on with a leather collar, and appears to be about 8 years old. Appraised to seven pounds ten shillings.
GILES HARDING.
OS. 20, 1793.

TAKEN up by Leroy Beasley, overseer for Eleazar Clay, at Silver Bank, near Osborne's, in Chesterfield county, a BOAR BAR-ROW, which has a flit and a crop in his right ear, and a flit and an overkeel in his left—a small blue spot on his right thigh, a hob nail, and appears to be three or more years old.—I am informed that he has been in the neighbourhood since Summer, and that he was a boar when he was first seen in the neighbourhood. Appraised to thirty five shillings.
LEROY BEASLEY.
January 24, 1793.

Twenty Dollars Reward.
RUN-AWAY from the subscriber's plantation in Stafford county, the 17th of December last, a negro fellow called GLOUCESTER, he is about 40 years of age, full 5 feet high, very black, has remarkable long hair for a fellow of his colour, which he generally keeps neatly combed, is a sensible, arch, cunning fellow, but has rather a sly look, a thick voice, and is much given to put out his lips when talking, dressed in the usual negro clothing, took with him a light coloured bath coating coat and breeches, a blanket of negro cotton, and five yards of negro cotton not made up. I imagine he will endeavour to get to the northward, and pass for a freeman, as it is supposed he went off in company with Benjamin Tate, a free munition (by trade a blacksmith). I have also reason to believe he will attempt to get to the West-Indies, I therefore forewarn all masters of vessels from taking him on board, under the severest penalty of the law.
Whoever will apprehend the said fellow and deliver him to me, or to my overseer Benjamin Picklin, in Stafford county, shall receive the above reward, or TEN DOLLARS if secured in any jail so that I get him again.
RAW. W. DOWNMAN.

The LAWS passed last session of Assembly are published, and ready to forward to the counties.

AMERICAN ADVICES.

PITTSBURG, February 18.
Last Sunday the detachment of the 1st United States regiment, under the command of Esq. Sullivan, (after being obliged to return on account of the snow) commenced their march a second time for Fort Franklin, and from the information that has since been received, there appears a more favorable prospect of its being able to accomplish it.
Extract of a letter from Lieutenant John Jeffers, to the Printer, dated Fort Franklin, Feb. 9, 1793.
"As you wish to know what news in this quarter, I have only to observe that the Cornplanter has been here, and in my opinion he is as friendly as one of our own people.—He has advised me to take care, for, said he, you will soon have a chance to let the world know whether you are a soldier or not. When he went off he ordered two chiefs and ten warriors to remain here and scout about the garrison, and let me know if the bad Indians should either advance against me or any of the frontiers of the United States.—He thinks the people at Pittsburg should keep out spies towards the Salt Licks, for he says by and by he thinks the bad Indians will come from that way.
"In a conversation with the Cornplanter I observed, that I should soon have goods to pay him for those which were taken from him and his people when my boat was ascending the Allegheny last spring.—I likewise told him that I had a large quantity of powder and led for the Chippawas.
He replied, that he hoped the Chippawas would come to receive their powder and lead when he and his warriors came to receive their goods, for, I have a great plenty of powder and lead, and I am willing to make them a present of a shot.
Broken Twig, a Seneca chief, told the Corn-planter in my presence, that he must rise to war and revenge the blood of his friend General Butler.

"Big Tree and John Dickard, Seneca chiefs, declare they will each of them have two scalps for General Butler's."
"From these observations you may see there are Seneca's who I think may be relied on as real friends to the United States."

BALTIMORE, February 28.
Translation of the Speech of M. Simonville, the French democratic resident at the aristocratic court of Genoa, addressed to the Doge and other members of that republican government.

"Most Serene Allies of the King of France, "I present to you a new pledge of the perfect esteem and friendship of the king of the French, in the instrument certifying his acceptance of the new Constitution. A great evolution has astonished Europe: It is at last accomplished; and the legal code is opened, never to be again closed.—In the tumult of contending passions, amongst such a multiplicity of interests, the will of the nation, & the assent of the monarch, has saved the Empire, by rallying its citizens under the standard of liberty and monarchy. At the present moment, they only are revolutionists, who, like the ancient Herodotus, would render themselves immortal by the aggravated criminality of setting fire to the temple of national concord. They who, under the influence of an obstinate attachment, are labouring to envelop this glorious fabric of human reason (the French constitution) under the clouds of prejudice; who deny the sacred right of a Monarch to consider the prosperity of the nation as the great end of all his labours, how weak, how contemptible, are their efforts!—Can the growing reason of man go backward?—Can the immortality of truth do otherwise than triumph?—And you, august Prince of this republic, whose super-eminent virtue claims all the homage that is due to your exalted dignity, convinced we are that you cannot read the constitution I have the honor to present, with a spirit of indifference. Its foundations are laid in the love of our fellow-creatures, and, I may say, even its errors, should any be discovered therein: In this memorable declaration of the rights of man, France is forever prohibited from entertaining ambitious views upon the rest of the world; happy in his people's happiness, satisfied in their affections, their Monarch has acknowledged the same sentiments. Already have our songs of joy resounded in your ears; fame has waited to you the sublime accents of a whole nation, thus addressing the God of peace.—Pursue in this world your best, your brightest image, a powerful Monarch, who is a lover of justice; and protect a people who have sworn to live, die, and conquer, for the rights of man!"

"Under the influence of these sentiments, France hopes to establish a more intimate connexion than ever with the republic of Genoa; and may it be as durable as my zeal is sincere for the interests of the republic, & the character of your serene highness."

Richmond, March 6.
Albany papers mention that the Post of Detroit, on the Lakes, is become the great emporium or deposit of supplies of arms, ammunition, clothing, liquor, &c. &c. for the western Indians. That a chain of deposits extends from thence quite down to the Miami towns, by means of which the savages are supplied in the most ample manner with every thing they want, and not unfrequently gratis.
"It is more than probable (says a letter from Albany) that a grand league is forming by a power, that calls itself civilized, with the western Indians out of hatred to, and jealousy of the rising American Empire. Their movements indicate something extraordinary, and it is high time we took some decisive steps, both in regard to Indians and their allies." Extract of a letter from Pittsburg, dated February 10.

"Whether the frontiers of Pennsylvania shall enjoy peace, or be deluged with blood, this approaching summer, will, in a considerable degree, depend, upon the final resolutions of the six Indian nations, for neutrality, peace or war!—When the fate of two successive campaigns is taken into view, with the influence of the western Indians on their councils, flushed with victory and plunder, and the weak defenceless state, in some measure, of the frontiers, and the presumption that no considerable army can be raised and sent forward before fall, what can reasonably be expected but savage hostilities?
At all events, the situation of the inhabitants, whose minds are kept in a state of continual suspense, agitated between hope and fear, whose lives and property are immediately exposed, should their determinations be hostile, is truly pitiable, and claims the vigilant attention of government."

Dismal Swamp Canal Company.

PROPOSALS for cutting a canal from the waters of Elizabeth river in Virginia, to those of Pamlico river in North Carolina, or for conducting the work, will be received until the ninth day of April next, by Robert Andrews of Williamsburg, by Thomas Newton, Jun. and Daniel Badger, of Norfolk, in Virginia, by John Cooper of Gates county, and Benjamin Jones of Camden county, in North Carolina.—The length of the canal will be about sixteen miles; the country through which it will pass is flat and swampy, free from stones, and covered with heavy wood.—The canal is to be thirty-two feet in width, eight feet at least in depth, below the surface of the earth, and capable of being navigated, in dry seasons, by vessels drawing three feet water. Good security will be required by contractors, and persons making applications to be employed as managers, must produce certificates (from characters of respectability) of their qualifications for a business of this kind.

By order of the President and Directors,
WM. A. BAYLEY, Clerk.

RUN-AWAY.
Committed to the jail of Henrico county by the name of TOM, a stout made negro man, about 5 feet 3 or 4 inches high, with a scar under his left eye near his nose, which is ratter flat, has a wide mouth and has lost one of his front teeth in the upper jaw. He has since confessed his name is Daniel, and that he was born in the family of Richard Hutchings of Lancaster county, who owned his mother by the name of Venus; that the said Hutchings told him when he was about 16 years of age, to Joing King of Northumberland county, who afterwards told him to Priestley Cotterell of the same county, and that he now belongs to Joseph Ovin or Alvin of Richmond county, who purchased him of the said Priestley Cotterell.— He says he ran away from Jonathan Hutchings, overseer for Alvin, at his plantation in Albemarle or Augusta.—He does not know his present owner, nor where he lives, only as he heard him say Richmond county was the place of his residence. His owner is desired to send for him, pay charges and take him away.
WILLIAM ROSE, Keeper.
Richmond, Feb. 25, 1792.

Committed to Prince-Edward Jail, the 28th of December last, a Negro man, supposed to be a slave, but says he is a freeman, by name MARSHALL WILDER, and that he served his time with one John Smith, in Nancy county, in the State of Maryland, and that he lost his certificate of his freedom by some accident, and that he was going out to Georgia.— His clothes are as follows, a white Virginia cloth coat, waistcoat of gray coloured coating, a pair of leather breeches; he has a coat cut out, not made, a great coat of country made cloth full, white-linen for a shirt not made, a jacket and breeches of mixed Virginia. The owner (if any) is desired to prove him, and take him away, or he will be dealt with according to law.

FOR SALE.
The Subscriber offers the following
TRACTS of LAND, on moderate terms, for Cash, or Negroes, at a valued price, viz:
One in the county of Culpeper (Virginia) on Flat Run creek, twenty-eight m-above Fredericksburg; three hundred acres of whare under good fence, and in excellent farming order. The tract contains about seven hundred a-and is of exceeding good quality, the soil well ed to the culture of wheat, corn, or tobacco particularly for that of grain; about one hand twenty acres lying directly upon the run in a populous and agreeable neighborhood, and will be sold low for cash or negroes, either entire, or in lots to suit the purchasers.

One Tract in the same county, about five miles from Stevensburg, and the same distance from Culpeper Court-house; it is of good quality, is heavily timbered with oak, large pine and walnut, has a very eligible situation for a saw or grist mill, and about twenty-five acres of good meadow; this tract contains about eight hundred acres.

One Tract of Land lately purchased of Mr. George Pickett, about two miles from Richmond, on the main road leading from Richmond to the Meadow Bridges, about 80 acres well timbered, the whole equal to any in the neighborhood, and contains about one hundred and twenty-six acres.

One small Tract about the same distance from Richmond, on the road leading to Melliss. Ross and Currie's coal-pits, adjoining Mr.
Southall's land, containing about seventy-five acres, of which a small part is timbered. Apply to E.
Voss, or R. B. Voss in Culpeper, or to the subscri-
